CROWD ATTENDS
SCRIBULUS CLUB
SOURDOUGH MIX

"Shooting of Dan McGrew" Produced
During Intermission Brings Down House.

Well boys and girls, the Sourdough Mix has been. From all accounts it was a flashing, dashing, smashing, crashing, gnashing success—that is everyone seemed to have a nice time.

Following the hoopsterial ceremonies in the "Y" gymnasium the assemblage repaired to an improvised ballroom in the Ad building and partook of dancing and punch.

The school orchestra did its best to old favorites and the couples gyrated rhythmically to its vibrations.

To carry out the far North atmosphere a "bar" operating as a punch dispenser was set up in one corner and for the pleasure of the audience Dan McGrew was shot during the intermission.

Fred Breit, in the title role of the Robert W. Service production, was ably supported by a starry cast—this support was particularly noticeable in the fade-out. But the dramatic find of the season, be it proclaimed, is our venerable, William J. Harmon. Playing the difficult part of the miner fresh from the creeks, Mr. Harmon invested the characterization with a pathos which brought tears (of mirth) from the lacrimal ducts of the audience. Rose Manahan gave a very convincing performance as the "Rag-

Epworth League
Goes Sleighing

About 20 Normal students enjoyed the sleigh ride party given by the Normal Epworth league last Friday evening. Cars carried the party about three miles into the country where the sleigh was waiting, here the group transferred to the sleigh and the party proper began. After sleighing for some time the party stopped at the Brondt ranch. Games and the radio were enjoyed. After the games light refreshments consisting of hot chocolate and maple sticks were served.

"MR. PIM PASSES BY"
TO BE HERE SOON

Tryouts for an all-school play, "Mr. Pim Passes By," will be held in the near future, under the auspices of the Delta Pi Phi, the honorary dramatic club.

The play, which was written by A. Miln, will be coached by Miss Schilling, who has had previous work with the play.

During the next week the date and place where the tryout will be held will be announced. Any student who has had previous experience or is interested in dramatics is urged to be present.

The committee that chose this play has been congratulated on their choice. The author uses a style similar to Barrie.

Cheney and W. S. C. have both presented the play and both were considered a success.

The cast of the play consists of four females and two males.

There are no leads but all the parts are quite heavy and of equal importance.

Miss Dawn Kennedy will have charge of the stage setting and costuming of the play.

This production will be given the last part of this quarter.

Instruments
Being Made

Audiences of the future may thrill and bow to master musicians and superb music from local talent as the result of the sixth grade work at the Edison school.

From common place apple boxes, cigar boxes, cheese boxes, chopping bowls, and other material more often associated with the culinary department than with musical instruments will they build their models.

The sixth grade of last year started this novel work and their finished instruments will be models for this year's class.

One day each week is spent in studying origination of the music, rhythm, dance and song of primitive man as well as modern theories. In connection with this, the class will study the history of musical instruments. This stimulates interest for the work of the rest of the week which the students spend in shop working on their various instruments. Nine ukeleles, five violins, three cellos, four xylophones, tambourines and drums are in the making.

One of the drums, perhaps, presented the most original idea; a wooden chopping bowl with a cloth head which was coated with shellac.

The instruments are about half finished and the workers expect to finish them by the end of the quarter and then they will play before the student assembly.

Enthusiasm runs high and each student is deeply interested as orchestral instruction is given the class. Miss Lucille Greenlee and Bill Boyes are in charge of the work.

Constitution
Adoped By Men

The adoption of a constitution and set of house rules was the principal business carried on at a meeting of the men's organization, held Monday, January 31 in the social room of the men's residence.

The constitution and house rules, drawn up by the constitution committee, consisting of Roy Harris, chairman; Russell Bogan and Ed Geffe and house rules committee consisting of George Keithan, chairman; Fred Weber and Walter Stromberg, were accepted after a few minute changes had been made.

Monday, February 7, the scholarship committee will report the grades of the men of the organization. The

Roll During First Quarter

The following students are on the honor roll for the first quarter. To achieve this they carried at least 12 hours and received no grade below B. B minus disqualifies a student for the honor roll.

While the men of the school have an enrollment of 23 per cent of the total, they form 37 per cent of the honor roll.

Five of these honor students were first quarter students: Vera Barnett, Nola Binford, Newton Cannon, Fred Owen and Sue Winters.

DR. KINKAID GIVES
FIVE LECTURES

Dr. Trevor Kinkaid, professor of zoology at the University of Washington and a well known biologist is giving a series of lectures in the Normal school auditorium, the first of which took place Monday morning at 9:00, and the second that afternoon at 3:00. The third address was Tuesday at 11:00 and another this morning at 8:00. The final one will take place this afternoon at 3:00.

Dr. Kinkaid illustrates his interesting lectures on various biological subjects with the use of slides.

The first hour was devoted to a general discussion of science and was primary for students of Contemporary Civilization.

Ants was the subject of the Monday afternoon address which was for the whole school. Analogies were drawn between the lives and civilization of the ants and of the human race.

The purpose of the lecture was to impress the students with the seriousness of fire losses both in human life and property to such an extent that they would exercise all care possible.

CHILD MUSICIAN
IN DOW RECITAL

Miss Emily Dow, child violinist, will be the chief entertainer at the Dow recital which will be given in the auditorium, Tuesday, February 15 at 8:15.

Miss Dow, although only 15 years of age, has attained an enviable reputation in Seattle music circles and has given of her talent in many performances for the last few years in several cities in Washington.

She will be accompanied by her brother, James Dow, who is only three years her senior but who has unusual ability at the piano.

Mrs. Robert Calland will further the program by solos contralto accompaniment.

object of this committee is to keep close account of the grades made by the men and in case of failures help in raising them to standard.

William Miller as historian will keep a record of all men while attending school including their permanent and temporary addresses and will keep in touch with them after they leave school to work or continue their education in other schools.

WILDCATS TAKE TRIP TO COAST

To Play U. of W. Frosh Wednesday, Bellingham Thursday, St. Martin's Friday.

The Ellensburg Wildcats left this morning at 10 a. m. for a series of three and possibly four games on the coast. Coach Sandberg and eight players with Manager Ruble are making the trip.

Joe Iles, stalwart center and high-point man of the Wildcats in all games this season, is expected to lead the team to victory in the games on the Coast this week.

FIRE HAZARDS
WELL DESCRIBED

Slides showing the tragedies resulting from fire were used to illustrate the lecture by Horace Sykes of the Mutual Fire Insurance Company in assembly, Wednesday, February 2.

The first slide was the picture of a great conflagration in New York city in 1835, and others showed the burning of Chicago and San Francisco.

Mr. Sykes showed slides of fires caused by careless use of cigarettes, (Continued on Page Four)

Miss Pendleton
Dorm. Manager

Miss Lois Pendleton has taken over her new duties as dormitory manager. She will have charge of the furnishing and upkeep of both the men's and women's dormitories.

Miss Pendleton is a recent graduate of the University of Washington and, while there, she was house manager for Delta Delta Delta sorority.

During the past week Miss Pendleton has been inspecting the rooms and checking one the furnishings.

Wildcat Chatter

Connors, who went in in the last part of the game, played remarkably well, displaying skill and speed.

Iles was in great form. His three consecutive field goals were a feature of the game. He led the individual scoring with ten points to his credit.

Thomas played at guard in excellent form.

Smith played his usual scientific game, in excellent fashion.

Cleary checked his territory in great style.

This game leaves the Normal school in a three cornered tie for the state championship.

Panzica was going strong until he collided with one of the opponents and had to be taken out of the game.

The next dish for the Wildcats will be the U. of W. frosh. This will be the first of the road games and will be at Seattle next Wednesday night.

THREE NORMALS TIED IN RACE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Ellensburg Defeats Cheney In Fast
Game Saturday Evening;
Score 24-15

The Wildcats clawed their way to 24 to 15 victory over the Cheney "Savages" last Saturday night at the local "Y" gym, causing the three Normals to go into a triangular tie in the championship race.

The Wildcats were in great form and, inspired by the joyous yelling of the home crowd which filled the gym to capacity, outclassed the Cheney quintet in every department of the game.

Starting with a bang the Wildcats chalked up nine points before the visitors had scored a single ally. Iles, the elongated center, started the fireworks with three consecutive baskets. Smith put one in and soon after Panzica converted a free throw which made the score 9 to 0 at this time. Things began to look gloomy for Cheney but finally the Savages converted a free throw and a field goal and soon after the gun ended the half with the score 18 to 3 in favor of the Wildcats.

Between halves the new members of the Scribulus club put on a stunt as a part of their initiation.

The second half was somewhat of a repetition of the first the Wildcats never being in danger.

Birthday Party
For Miss Sjoblom

A surprise party was given for Miss Karin Sjoblom, Friday evening, January 28, in honor of her birthday. Cards and ukes furnished much entertainment during the evening.

Those present were the Misses Dorothy Newcomer, Lucy Dennis, Gladys Helstrom, Cleora O'Neil, Martha Davis, Ethel Smith, Verna Binkley, Lucille Greenlee, Frances Marsh, Isabel Crow, Anita Nelson, Viola Pounds, Helen Taylor, Dorothy Swift, Pearl Stewart and Marguerite Carpenter.

RELIGION LACKING IN CONGO, BRAGG

"There are no gods of any kind worshipped in the part of French Congo in which I have worked," stated Dr. Horace Bragg in his lecture to the Contemporary Civilization classes, Monday, January 31.

Dr. Bragg is on a visit to America from French Congo where he has been a missionary for the past seven years. In illustrating his lecture he showed many interesting trophies, such as knives used by the chiefs of the cannibal tribes, ivory elephants and other animals carved by the natives and many other objects.

The tribes of this region are altogether patriarchal, the father having the power to sell all his children and having complete control over all his numerous wives. Also the women and children do all the labor which is considered too difficult for the men. Boys sweep the floor because the girls are not considered enough. Practically all the tribes of the French Congo are man-eating and will probably continue to be so until each village has a missionary of its own.

TESTING TIME

Now that your fate in regard to last semester's grades has been definitely announced and the work (or lack of it) has been given its due credit on the records of the school, you are free to determine what those little white slips of paper will record when the middel of next quarter has rolled around.. You can have now a definite idea of exactly how much effort must be expended on an instructor to enable you to walk away with a passing grade. And also how much will put you in the list of hon- or students.

Were you the least little bit ashamed to tell your friends what your grades were? Were you ashamed to send them home to mother and dad?

If you were here's the grand chance to reform your habits of study and make the most out of the remainder of this quarter. If you were proud of them, then there is the chance to do the same sort of work again, and per- haps improve because no one here is perfect yet. If you didn't do your best work last quarter and still didn't feel reluctant to broadcast your results you are hopeless and worthless to yourself and to all who know you.

"The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la."

They'll soon be here and they will be indeed welcome. Old winter is a jolly time but when the snow gets soft and the streets and sidewalks are miniature lakes we will welcome the day when it is entirely gone and the little flowers and grasses come forth to greet us after the long absence.

The presence of spring has already begun to affect certain factions in school. Can you guess who they are? They may be seen strolling about the campus totally ob- livious to all the rest of humanity and glorying only in the beautiful sunlight and their two selves. Yes there are always two of them. For we may again make use of the old saying "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love"—and we are tempted to add to this proverb and say that a young woman's fancy—to ull appearances follows the lead.

The music 1 and 2 classes are prov- ing very interesting. Kitty Hall dis- played her unusual talent in singing "do re mi" in Sue Lombard hall, as well as in the music room. Janet Barclay kept the infirmiry entertain- ed with her discords. All in all, the classes seem to be a great success.

Girls Attend Church Dinner

The Presbyterian church was the scene of a dinner, Wednesday even- ing, given for the Normal students who signified this church as their preference. The chief purpose of the dinner was to interest the Normal in organizing a Normal school Christi- an Endeavor society. Hostesses of the affair were the ladies of the church.

After a delicious dinner Rev. Han- sen Bergen talked on the subject of the C. E. organization and a general discussion followed. The evening was spent in listening to the radio. Eighteen women were present from the Normal.

LANDSCAPE ART SUBJECT OF TALK

"Tie your house down to the ground with shrubs," said Mr. Herman from Washington State College at Pull- man in his speech to students in the assembly, Friday.

Mr. Herman was here in Ellens- burg for three days last week, to give residents of Ellensburg suggestions for beautifying and improving their city. In his speech, Friday, he talk- ed on the betterment of small home grounds.

"Landscape architecture is the art of improving lands for human use and enjoyment," he stated. "Make the plan for your yard usable, then beautiful."

Architects in Egypt, Babylonia, and Greece were the first to beautify their grounds. Then came the old English and Scotch gardeners with their use of shrubs.

To have a lovely garden, do not be a specialist in —dahlias, for instance. Make use of a great variety of flow- ers.

Flowers to look well, should be massed. Mr. Herman gave the illus- tration of a woman who wanted pinks, so she bought six little plants and set them in a straight row in front of the huose. There they grew—"six little pinks in a row."

In planting a yard it is best to put the tall shrubs in the background.

As to color combinations, the same principles as are carried out in dress should be followed.

In closing, Mr. Herman said, "Just use your good common sense and you can't go far wrong."

ed by his sharp teeth. The cannibals very kindly poison their victims before cooking them, rather than placing them alive in a boiling kettle as is commonly believed. Three days after the burial of a corpse a gruesome feast known as the feast of the dead is always held.

French Congo is one of the few sections of the world which seems to have no religion of even some primitive sort. In all the time Dr. Bragg has been there he has found no signs of a religion.

Many students considered this one of the most interesting lectures which has been given this year.

Kamola Hi-Lites

1 Did you know that we have new rugs up in our hall now? Certainly seems good and it cheers one up wonderfully to have such bright colors around.

2 Did you know that weepings and wailings occurred last Tuesday afternoon. Grades came out, you could hardly get through the halls, the commotion was so great. But from every thing we've heard we guess there was just as much wailing among the Sue's.

3 Did you know that "Moon" Mullins made two B's and two A's last quarter. Won't some one please tell us how that boy does it?

4 Did you know that Kitty Hall went a-sewing last Saturday afternoon. She came over to 77 and borrowed Margaret's sewing machine.

5 Did you know that Florence Moser says she'd like to live at Kamola for a quarter? She gets tired of being a "town girl" all the time.

6 Did you know that we see Buck Brown drive down here quite often in his little Ford coupe? He stops below the window of 65 or is it 66—yodels to his fair lady and then drives on.

7 Did you know that Dorothy Spoon says that Straight's have darn good chocolate pie? Guess we'll have to wander over that way some day when we find a dime.

8 Did you know that we've already picked out our winner for the Hyakem beauty contest? And she's not of the "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" type either. But then, only time will tell.

DR. KINKAID GIVES FIVE LECTURES

Tuesday morning Dr. Kinkaid spoke on evolution, tracing the various steps in development from the amoeba to man.

The attendance at the lectures has been large and students have expressed appreciation of the opportunity to listen to Dr. Kinkaid. The two final lectures will probably be received with as much enthusiasm as the others have been.

WILD CATS TAKE TRIP TO COAST

ing the trip. The players making the trip are Arat Smith, Otis Cleary, Joe Iles, Roy Thomas, Clarence Panzica, Bob Hammond, Buck Brown and Jack Conners or Harold Henry.

The first contest is slated for Wednesday evening when they tackle the U. of W. frosh on the campus gym floor. The frosh have a strong team and are steadily improving. They were beaten by a small margin in their game with Bellingham Normal but will probably show a lot more class after working together for some time.

The next big game for the Crimson and Balck squad is the one against Bellingham, Thursday night. Although beaten by the Viking on their own floor, the Ellensburg squad will be a real menace to the Blue and White hopes for the Normal pennant. If the Wildcats show the improvement they did in the Cheney game they should come home on top of the tri-Normal league. Coach Sandberg and all the players will be working hard to gather this one in. We who stay home can only hope for the best.

The third game is billed at Lacey against the St. Martin's squad. The college quintet has played some good basketball this winter and playing the Wildcats after two hard games on successive days will be a hard bunch to down. They have a capable center and dangerous center in Cardinal, who is the big noise of the outfit. Altho a defeat in this game would not hurt their league standing, the Normal squad will be out to win if possible.

A fourth contest will be arranged for Saturday night if possible, al-

YAKIMA K OF C BOWS TO W.S.N.S.

The Wildcats trampled over the Yakima K. of C.'s, last Wednesday in the local "Y" gym 56 to 10, in a game featured by the close checking of the Normal squad.

The visitors seemed bewildered by the defense of the home squad and rarely got close enough for a try at the basket although they kept trying to break through rather than shoot long shots.

The Wildcats were scoring without much effort and only for some poor passing and shooting would have run up a much higher score. The form shown in the Bellingham game was missing and the eagerness of some of the players to score held up the work of the team as a whole.

Iles was the high point man of the contest with 25 counters. Smith gathered 15 points and Thomas 14.

Bob Hammond, in his first appearance this year, checked his count in good style. Cleary and Thomas kept the K. of C.'s forwards from threatening their basket to any extent.

The Yakima quintet showed little ability to work the ball down the floor and lost it time and again without getting close to their basket. Herrington and Dietzen looked the best for such a thing was possible.

Miss Mc Morran Talks To Girls

Miss Jean McMorran entertained with readings at the girls house-meeting, Monday night. She chose as her subject "Love," knowing its great appeal to feminine audiences of all ages. She made her selections from Edna St. Vincent Millay and Elizabeth and Robert Browning, each of these expressing different types of love.

The girls appreciation was made evident by their wish to have her favor them again.

Besides this feature of the evening several announcements were made and results of the contest between Sue Lombard and Kamola hall girls showed Kamola in the lead.

Exchanges

Dr. A. R. Lang, head of the department of education at Cheney, will offer a two week's course at the U. of W. next summer.

The seniors of U. of W. stooped to polishing shoes, to the great satisfaction of the frosh, in the interest of the senior charity fund.

A crowd of 1,000 were kept on edge during the fastest game ever exhibited on the Cheney floor in which the Cheney Normal Savages beat the Bellingham Vikings by a score of 36 to 33.

Soph vigilance plan is adopted at the U. of W. for the coming school year. The traditional enforcement will be left in the hands of 30 sophomores, directly responsible to the senior council for their methods.

Among those ill this week are Amelia Telban, Mae Sterling, Jesse McKay, Daisy Miller, Janet Barclay and Marian Hopper.

Miss McKay and Miss Miller still remain in the infirmary but the others were sufficiently improved as to warrant their removal.

Twists and Turns

BY VERTA-BRAY

Psychologists tell us that women are very rarely color blind—at least they never fail to recognize a green-back when they see one.

Some wives have a habit of going sight-seeing through their husbands' pockets while the old man disturbs the midnight calm with vibrating tonsils and adolescent adenoids.

The old man gives until it hurts—but he usually starts suffering at the first dime.

Hereafter all the "gold diggers" will have unlimited access to the mining claims in the Swauk.

However if women still persist in "blowing" their old men we can rest assured of the fact that all the "gold diggers" didn't die in the rush to the Klondike.

Never wear a gold collar button in back and a brass one in front—it causes the Adams apple to turn green with envy.

And the galloping apple in the throat of the swack hound may be classified as a Winesap.

Sports In Brief

The University of Pennsylvania will have three major league players on its baseball coaching staff this spring—Eddie Collins, Jimmy Wilson and Howard Ehmke will assist Dr. Walter Carless for two or three weeks in the early part of the season.

A new college baseball league has been formed in California with five teams entered, namely: Stanford, U. S. C., Santa Clara, St. Marys and California. The St. Mary's team will visit the Orient after the regular playing season has ended.

California, last year's Pacific Coast champion, is leading in its section for the basketball championship of the Coast by virtue of a 30 to 27 win over U. S. C. at Berkeley.

O. A. C. has 100 men out for crew which is starting its first year at the Oregon school. Ninety-two are over six feet in height. Washington isn't the only place that grows 'em big.

All male students of O. A. C. must be able to swim 100 feet to graduate from the school.

Lynden and Nooksack high schools came through the first half of their basketball schedules without a loss and are favored to cop the Whatcom county titles.

The U. of W. frosh basketballers have two unusually tall centers on their squad this year in Paul Jessup, 6 feet, 7 inches, and "Stork" McClary, 6 feet, 6 inches.

The Bellingham Vikings, led by Keplinger who scored 19 points, downed St. Martins by a 51 to 40 count in the Lacey gym last Friday.

St. Martins managed to squeeze out a 36 to 34 win over the U. of W. frosh in a fast game also played in the Lacey gym.

The University of California has won eight straight games and look like winners in the Coast race.

The fourth annual ski jumping contest will be held at Cle Elum, February 17. For information call Mr. Harmon and Otis Cleary.

W. S. C. frosh hoopsters are setting a fast pace. Their latest victim was the Spokane U. quintet which they beat 38-20. They meet the Ellensburg Wilcats here, February 18.

The Alpha Zeta Chi meeting was postponed last week because of the glee clubs' meeting on Tuesday night. A notice will be posted on the bulletin board in the Ad building before the next meeting.

Soap Sculpture Interests Club

The Soap Sculpture contest, being promoted by the Procter and Gamble Soap Company, is the theme of greatest interest to the Art club at present. This was announced by Miss Kennedy at the last meeting of the club on Tuesday evening. The work must be done in white soap by an amateur sculpturer under 21 years of age. Many of those who have taken sculpturing as a hobby in the past, are planning on entering the contest hoping to bring home some of the prizes.

Posters for the Children's Welfare Dinner, to be given by Parent-Teachers association soon, are being made by the members of the Art club. This is part of the club's regular work, the posters for this annual event having been made by this organization in years previous to this one.

The Art club has selected new officers to lead them in their work this quarter. They are:

President, William Miller; vice-president, Helen Emerson; secretary, Loraine Archer; business manager, Jerry Ozerlich.

FIRE HAZARDS WELL DESCRIBED

The injuries from fire are always tragic if not actually fatal. Many people have hideously scarred faces, crippled limbs and blindness as the results of carelessness with fire. Mr. Sykes stated that a second degree burn covering one-third of the body is always fatal. Cotton clothing causes by far the greatest heat when burned and thus causes a great many deaths. One breath of cotton flame is fatal. Fire takes nearly twice as many lives daily as are caused by railroad accidents.

Mr. Sykes advice to the students was "Be careful."

time Kid" and Mollie Fitzell as the genial barkeep polished glasses in a most professional way. The part of "The Lady Known as Lou" was treated synthetically by Miss Lucille Laidlaw, but there is no truth in the rumor that Theda the Second is at hand.

A feature of the evening's entertainment was the prize waltz. Competing teams circled the floor before the battery of judges who, after careful scrutiny, awarded first prize, a box of candy to Marion Hopper and Mitch Angelel. Second prize, a highly ornamental candy stick, went to Coach Sandy and Mary Maher.
